

Name Writing Practice
September 2021 Creative Curriculum
Miss Julie and Miss Michele

This activity is to help your child practice writing their name and to recognize the letters in their name. Have your child practice writing their name each day and name the letters that are in their name if they can. If not, ask your child to find different letters that you name and see which ones they can recognize. If your child needs extra help writing their name, you may write it first and have them trace over it. You can also have them find the letter of their name in a newspaper or magazine, cut them out, and glue them to paper as they name each letter.
