

Miss Shannon and Miss Mary

October Social/Emotional Creative Curriculum Project

For this activity, you are going to make a jack-o-lantern. Talk about the difference between a pumpkin and a jack-o-lantern. Discuss different emotions with your child (ex: happy, sad, mad, scared, silly, etc.). Have your child decide which face they would like to make for their jack-o-lantern. Help them draw the shapes for the jack-o-lantern on the paper provided (ex: triangles for the eyes, square for the nose, silly mouth, etc.). Then practice cutting the shapes out. Glue the shapes onto your jack-o-lantern. Talk with your child about their feelings and how to calm down when upset or angry.

What feeling did they choose for their jack-o-lantern? _____

Could they show you the different facial expressions? _____

Could they tell/show you different ways to calm down? What ideas did they have?
